TUESDAY, MARCH 30, 1875.

THE CONNECTICUT ELECTION.

The State election in Connecticut occurs on the first Monday in April, and both parties, excited by the close vote in New Hampshire, are working up the canvass with energy. Connecticut, like New Hampshire, has been quite evenly divided between Republicans and Democrats of late years, the Democratic majority for Governor in 1874 being 1,809, and the Republicans electing three of the four members of the House of Representatives; but there was a prohibition vote of about 5,000 cast last year, which may in the coming election follow the example of the New Hampshire prohibitionists, by falling into line with the Republicans. If the Republicans have gone into the canvass with as good declarations as did the Republicans of New Hampshire in their late election, and by which they achieved such a decided success, there is hope that Connecticut may be reclaimed. If the people of that State give heed to the fact that of one hundred and twelve members of the next House of Representatives, eighty-four were officers in the Rebel army; and twenty-eight in the Rebel Congress and that there is danger to our country if they be allowed the control of governmental affairs, Connecticut will certainly go Republican.

THE NEW ROAD LAW.

At the last session of the Legislature a new law in relation to public highways was passed, which in many respects differ materially from the old law on the same subject. We have not seen a copy of the bill as it passed, but the Eureka Sentinel gives the following synopsis of its most important provisions:

Section 1 requires the Board of County Commissioners of the county, on the petition of a majority of the tax-payers of any township whose names appear on the last previous assessment roll, to divide such township into a road district or districts, fixing the boundaries thereof, and to appoint a road supervisor for the same. Section 8 requires the Commissioners (when a road district has been created) to set apart fifty per cent of the net proceeds of all poll taxes collected from citizens residing in such road district, as a road fund. Also a majority of the property holders of any district may petition the County Commissioners in favor of a property tax, and when so petitioned, the Commissioners shall levy a tax on all property within such district, at a rate not to exceed three dollars on each one thousand dollars valuation, and any person may pay all or any portion of property tax by labor on the roads at the rate of three dollars per day. The act also defines the duties of the road supervisors.

Dr. Dr. Kovex having been rejected as bishop of Illinois by a majority of the standing committees of the Episcopal church, his friends now want to make him rector of St. James Church of Chicago. A Chicago paper says that the Doctor was rejected simply and solely because he was reported and believed to be a believer in, and exponent of, ritualism in some degree.

CLOSE OF VOLUME.—With this number ends the second volume and first year of the DAILY JOURNAL. Tomorrow we enter upon volume three and our second year. We have no apology to offer for what we have done or left undone during the year just closed. We have tried to do the square thing all around. We would be ungrateful were we not to return thanks to our friends who have stood by us, which thanks are hereby tendered.

EASTERN DISPATCHES!

Signs Of A European War.

CHICAGO, March 29.

A Washington special says United States Consul General Kreissman, at Berlin, in an official dispatch to the State Dept., confirms the truth of a dispatch from London, dated the 15th of March, stating that the German Government had put a stop to the transportation of horses from East Prussia to France. Consul Kreissman further says that the Emperor's Council has passed a secret ordinance strictly forbidding the importation of a single horse from North Germany to any place. Kreissman considers this action as extremely significant and this opinion is shared by officials at the State Department. It would appear that either North Germany is making an extensive arrangement for speedily strengthening the entire cavalry of the Empire or that the French Government is for some purpose endeavoring to make extensive purchases of horses in Germany. The best authorities are of the opinion that the first is the true solution and that it is not a hopeful sign for the future peace of Europe.

Extensive Fire.

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., March 29.

A fire in the State Prison this morning, in the pattern shop of the Southwestern Car Company's works, damaged the building $20,000 and destroyed $5,000 worth of material. It was feared at one time that the entire prison would go.

About Bismark—Maximilian's Monument.

LONDON, March 29.

The Chicago Gazette says there is no truth in the report that Bismark is to be made Duke of Lanerburg.

A dispatch from Trieste says great preparations are making for the unveiling next month of the monument to the memory of Maximilian. All companions of his in Mexico have been invited.

Good Way.

SCRANTON, PA., March 29.

The Irish born portion of the population of this city and vicinity have resolved to honor the memory of John Mitchell by abandoning the street parade and raising a fund for his widow.

Parochial Schools.

NEW YORK, March 29.

Vicar General Quinn has appointed what the Tribune characterizes an able and representative committee to consider with the committee of the Board of Education on what terms the Parochial Schools may be admitted to the benefit of common school system, subject to its laws, as regards course of instruction, methods of discipline, and general management.

United States Treasurer—Honor to the Dead.

CHICAGO, March 29.

A Times Indianapolis special states positively that John C. Newcas, cashier of the State National Bank of that city and local financier of some local prominence, has been tendered the appointment of United States Treasurer, to succeed Gen. Spfaner, and that while he has not yet definitely decided to accept the place he has gone to Washington to see about it.

A Washington special gives the following opening paragraph of an editorial in the Washington Chronicle which a correspondent says was dictated by Senator Anthony: "It is now stated definitely that the members of the Senatorial Mexican excursion party do go on legitimate government business. They are detailed to see if the graves of soldiers killed in the Mexican war are properly cared for. This act of patriotism has been long delayed and neglected through all changing vicissitudes of over a quarter of century. These graves have been almost forgotten. The brave men who fell battling for their country's flag on the arid plains of that desolate country and were buried beneath its soil will be neglected no longer."

The Beecher Case.

NEW YORK, March 29.

If the crowd around the Brooklyn City court room this A. M. is any indication of interest in the Beecher trial, it is increasing. David Daws, commission merchant, was the first witness. He testified that Bessie Turner came to live at his house in the spring and left in the summer. He couldn't recollect the year, nor had he any memorandum of the dates. His family went on a trip to Omaha that spring, leaving on the last day of May, and returned the 12th of June.

WESTERN DISPATCHES!

(SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL.)

PACIFIC COAST.

Miscellaneous.

LOS ANGELES, March 29.

Last evening as George Parker was passing the Barnum Restaurant on Main street he accidentally swung his cane through one of the panes of glass in the front window, worth about six dollars. The proprietors rushed out and seized him, who offered to pay damages, but they demanded fifty dollars and pushed him inside of the restaurant, locked the door and commenced beating him. The police broke through the door and rescued him after he had been badly used. The restaurant proprietors are under arrest. During the melee several shots were fired; fortunately no one was hurt.

Slight showers of rain fell last night, not more than enough to lay the dust.

San Francisco News.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.

The charge of libel against T. Marriott, publisher of News Letter, entered by Dr. Boettinger, came up in the police court to-day. The court was informed by counsel that defendant had published a retraction and apology, and the case was dropped at request of plaintiff.

The trustees of the Lick estate assert that as a great trust it will be impossible for them to resign in accordance with Mr. Lick's request.

Mr. Lick's revocation is stated to have been influenced by relatives in Pennsylvania and designing lawyers who see heavy prospective fees in agitating the matter.

For some three months past an accountant has been examining books of the police department with reference to financial transactions; inquiry not yet concluded, but enough known to justify the statement that the defalcation of probably $20,000 has been discovered, and as soon as the expert finishes it is expected that suits will be brought on behalf of the city to recover the money, and at the same time criminal prosecutions instituted.

John Whitmore was to-day placed on trial for the murder of Peter Doran on the 17th of last October. Whitmore was first officer of the bark Kingman that was discharging coal at the wharf. Doran was superintendent of stevedores working the cargo and had some hard words about the manner of doing the work. Whitmore challenged Doran to fight; the latter accepted and approached Whitmore who drew a revolver and fired, killing Doran almost instantly.
